Highlights

Sacramento County's California Permanency for Youth Project, know as the Ruby Slipper project, has moved from the planning stage to the action stage. Some of our accomplishments are:

1. As of September 2006, nine of the 45 youth we have been working with have a change in legal status (adoption, guardianship or reunification) in process, four have a lifelong permanent connection and 26 have a potential lifelong connection. The other six are still working on finding a lifelong connection.
2. We've spread the Permanency Staffing (formerly the Adoption/Guardianship Staffing) from the Ruby Slipper project to all of our placement programs. The Permanency Staffing includes a new document that is intended to help facilitate a team discussion regarding all aspects of permanency not just adoption and guardianship.
3. Our Permanency Partners team is going strong in assisting social workers in the Placement programs. Permanency Partners is a collaboration between the Adoption, Permanent Placement and Family Reunification Programs. The goal is to assist the placement worker in educating and explaining to the current caretakers the different permanency options available for youth. Permanency options include return to birth parent, adoption, guardianship, or establishing a life long connection.
4. Our permanency handbook (modeled after Alameda County's), "There's No Place Like Home: A Guide to Youth Permanency" has been published and is being distributed to youth, resource families, social workers, our community partners, etc. This was a project our Youth Leaders took on and accomplished.
5. We have developed a "Youth Permanency Talking Points" document that is a tool that can be used anytime a staff person from a child welfare service agency is having a training or discussion regarding youth and/or permanency. These talking points are intended to help promote the importance of permanency for youth and to educate others in regards to youth permanency issues. Our hope that they will be used in all situations regarding youth and that someday these points will be common knowledge.
6. We have participated in the Sacramento County Heart Gallery for the second year in a row.
7. We have worked with Sacramento State University on a curriculum regarding foster youth that includes permanency. The curriculum has been provided to all Department Heads at Sacramento State University.

Some activities that were not accomplished last year will be included in this years plan.

Sacramento County Family Permanency for Youth Project Plan:

Goal #1: Continue to create a culture and practice in Sacramento County that provides permanent families or committed connections for all Sacramento County foster children and youth.

Objectives:

1.1 Administrative policy and practice consistently supports permanent outcomes.

1.1.1 Activity: Permanency staffing is held for each child to determine what it would take to find a permanent family.

Performance indicators: Court report will reflect permanency staffing results

Responsibility: County social workers and supervisors
